

Antin adds senior partner in London

---

Viola Caon

04/09/2017

Antin Infrastructure Partners has appointed Kevin Genieser as senior partner, based in the London office.

Genieser joins after 20 years at Morgan Stanley where he was a managing director and the group head of power & utilities EMEA in the investment banking department.

During his career at Morgan Stanley and in his prior role at Credit Suisse First Boston, he advised on over 40 completed transactions in the power, utilities and clean technology sectors in Europe and across the Americas, Antin said.

He will be based in London and focus on investment sourcing and execution, particularly in the energy sector.

This hire brings the Antin team to over 60 professionals. The partnership now includes two managing partners:

- Alain Rauscher
- Mark Crosbie

Four senior partners:

- Mélanie Biessy
- Stéphane Ifker
- Angelika Schöchlin
- Kevin Genieser

Five partners:

- Mauricio Bolaña
- Nicolas Mallet
- Simon Söder
- Alban Lestiboudois
- Sébastien Lecaudey

Antin closed its third infrastructure fund at €3.6 billion ($3.8 billion on 13 December 2016).